AMTek Press Release

November 8th, 2016

AMTek has recently added a new distributor for the country of China. Wavelane has recently agreed to an AMTek distributor relationship for the marketing, sales, and service support of the AMTek line of Microwave equipment. Wavelane is an established distributor in the industrial food processing industry exclusive to China. The company was founded in 2011 and currently employees 100 on staff, and had a total of 68 patents issued by 2015. They currently represent numerous lines of industrial microwave covering ceramic sintering, chemical reaction, sterilization, dryness, thawing, cooking, extraction etc.

We are extremely pleased to have Wavelane as our partner in supplying the AMTek line of equipment into the Chinese marketplace, and look forward to our continuous growth in this market alongside this established distributor.
